What is a disability hate crime?

A disability hate crime is any offence that is motivated by hostility or prejudice based upon a person's disability.

If someone is picking on you because of your disability then it could be a hate crime and you should call the police.

All of these might be a disability hate crime

- People throwing stones at your window

- A group of people stealing your shopping
- Someone beating you up
- A neighbour calling you names when they see you
- Someone sending you abusive text messages.

What is mate crime?

Mate crime is a type of hate crime. It is when someone pretends to be your friend and then takes advantage of you instead of being a proper friend. You may have met them recently or you might have known them for a long time.

A 'mate' may be a friend, family member, supporter, paid staff or another person with a disability.

A mate crime is done by someone you know.

All of these might be a mate crime

- A 'mate' borrowing your mobile phone and using all the credit
- Your 'mate' coming round every time it's benefit day so you can go to the pub and spend your money

- Family members taking your money
- A 'mate' coming round once a week and going out in his car for the afternoon and charging you £20 for petrol
- Your 'mates' coming to your house and forcing you to buy the food and drink
- Your boyfriend saying you should have sex with other people for money.

Stay safe online

- People might pretend to be your friend online
- Keep your personal details safe and private
- Never give anyone your passwords

- Your report will be taken seriously and investigated
- Don't be scared, just be aware of hate crime and mate crime.

Information for friends, family, carers and supporters

Who else might notice hate crime?

- Real friends
- Family
- Supporters
- Neighbours
- Anyone who knows the victim well such as a doctor or staff at their bank or local shop who might notice a change in their routine.

How can you spot mate crime?

- Changes in routine, behaviour, appearance, finances or household (e.g. new people visiting or staying over, lots of new 'mates', lots more noise or rubbish than there normally is)
- Unexplained injuries
- Being involved in sexual acts which they have not agreed to
- Losing weight
- Not taking care of themselves and looking dirty or scruffy

- Bills not being paid
- A 'mate' who is not respectful or is bullying or undermining
- Suddenly short of money, losing their possessions or changing their will
- The person 'doing what they are told' by a 'mate'
- Showing signs of mental ill health
- Not being with the usual networks or friends/family or missing regular activities
- Goods or packages arriving at a person's house and then being collected by someone else
- The house in a mess after lots of parties.
