You have been working on the shop floor for a morning shift as a general assistant for the sock shop, the following questions have been asked to you through the morning. See if you can answer them in the boxes provided.

1. A customer needed a pair of red football socks in size 10 but there are none left in the shop, what area of the store room would you look for them?

2. Your manager has asked for you to change the till roll as it has run out, where from the stock room would you find more till roll?

3. You are on your break and find there is no more kitchen roll, where would you find more to fill up?

4. You have been asked to see if there are any more colours in the women's 100 denier tights, where would you look in the stock room?

5. A gentleman has asked for black every day work socks with a soft top, there appear to me none left in the shop, where would you look to find more?

6. A young lady says she is going to a fancy dress party and needs elephant socks, you can't see any in the shop but suggest checking the stock room before she leaves, where would you look?

7. You have been writing some notes for re stocking the shelves but your pen runs out, where would you look to find another?
