Understanding Data Protection and GDPR:

Think about your personal, private information - this is data.

All your information or data should be protected to stop other people from seeing or sharing your personal information.

However, it is important that some people have access to your information, such as doctors.

The Data Protection Act ensures that people keep your information safe.

Data Protection and GDPR

Everyone responsible for using personal data has to follow strict rules called 'data protection principles'.

7 PRINCIPLES OF MANAGING PERSONAL DATA UNDER GENERAL DATA PROTECTION REGULATIONS (GDPR)

Processed lawfully, fairly, and in a transparent manner

Collected for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes

Adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary

Accurate and where necessary, kept up to date

Retained only for a time that is necessary

Processed in an appropriate manner to maintain security

Supported by the further principle of accountability to customers and employees

YOU OWN IT! WE RESPECT IT!

Data Protection and GDPR

The Data Protection Act 2018 is the UK's implementation of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

Under the Data Protection Act 2018, you have the right to find out what information the government and other organisations store about you.

These include the right to:

- Be informed about how your data is being used
- Access personal data
- Have incorrect data updated
