Inclusion Support Services

Inclusion Support Services (formerly known as SEND Support Services) continue to work collaboratively to support children, families and educational settings in Worcestershire. The teams that make up WCF Inclusion Support Services are:

- Complex Communication Needs (Autism)
- Educational Psychology Service
- Learning Support Service
- Sensory Impairment Service

Each team have their individual package offers which can be found on the subsequent pages, or on their websites, however, there are common features of these services that are important to share.

Firstly, all Inclusion Support Services are supporting the graduated approach in settings through embedding the assess-plan-do-review cycle into all areas of their work. No matter which service you are working with, all will work collaboratively with you through a consultation approach to ensure any outcomes and interventions jointly agreed are reviewed with themselves in a timely manner to ensure impact is measured and next steps identified. To enable this, within any package of support you purchase, planning and review time has been included.

All services also employ a consultation model of service delivery. Consultation is about working with the staff of a school or setting to help them think through the issue, clarify the problem and then develop solutions to the problem. (DfE 'Future Directions Report 2000') Within this model there is an implicit move away from emphasising the importance of within child factors as the key to finding solutions. The role of Inclusion Support Services is to help the adults solve the problems that they experience in helping children to learn and understanding and supporting their emotional regulation and presenting behaviours. It is these conversations that we have with teachers and other adults that are the most powerful agents for bringing about change.

What do we mean by consultation?

- Consultation provides a structure and opportunity for adults to explore what will help a CYP access the social and learning opportunities available to them in their setting

Who will be at a consultation?

- The consultation will be attended by the adults who requested Inclusion Support Service for help to understand and meet the needs of a CYP. It will also be attended by other adults who know the CYP well (e.g. families, other professionals involved), depending on the context.

Will there be a report?

- The ISS team member who has attended the consultation will write a summary. Everyone at the consultation will get a copy and a copy will always be sent to the family.

What will happen next?

- The adults who attended the consultation will put in place the plan that was agreed at the consultation

Review

- After an agreed time, there will be a review meeting

It is important that Inclusion Support Services help staff and colleagues to find their own solutions. These will be more durable and carry more commitment than solutions offered as advice that they are expected to adopt. Because the process of consultation engages staff in creating their own solutions in their own classrooms, this model of service delivery is inherently biased towards inclusion and intrinsically fosters school improvement. It also fits in well with a social model of disability. To help adults solve their problems, it logically follows that Inclusion Support services need to spend most of their time with the adults who are dealing with the matter. In many cases a solution-focused approach can go directly to conversations about solutions without engaging in unnecessary work with the child first. Assessment remains an important component of our remit but will be focused and purposeful.

Lengthy traditional reports are not, on the whole, effective agents of change and are also very time consuming. They should not therefore be a routine part of our practice. Reports should only be provided when there is an explicit and justifiable purpose. There should however be clear, consistent records of work. These will normally be provided through the 'Discussion Records', which accompany the consultation process as an integral part of the settings' assess-plan-do-review cycle.

Joint Packages

All ISS teams have their separate support packages which are detailed in this brochure, however, there are opportunities to buy combined packages of CCN, LST and EPS by contacting our traded services directly at schoolservices@worcestershires.gov.uk and bespoke packages can be developed to ensure that the needs of your setting are met.

Complex Communication Needs (Autism)

Please note, the Autism Team will remain closed on the eStore for purchases, only those schools currently being supported and, on the waiting, list will be contacted. However, schools will be notified once the Team have further availability in 2025/2026.

The Autism/CCN team is made up of educational professionals experienced and qualified in the field of autism. We work in a child-centred way, seeking to empower the child, family and setting. Our teachers and specialist-practitioners work with you to co-construct individualised outcomes and strategies with school, families and the young person. We implement evidence-informed practice to ensure that our work is grounded in the latest research providing effective and reliable support for the diverse needs of children, young people, families and settings.

The Autism/CCN team will support your setting to build your capacity to meet the individual needs of children and young people (0 to 25 years). Collaborating closely with schools and settings, our team strives to provide tailored support, fostering an inclusive environment that enables every child to thrive academically and socially.

Our Traded Offer is flexible and constructed in collaboration with settings but is likely to include: -

- Consultation
- Assessment
- Intervention

The Autism/CCN consultant will be working in 3-hour sessions, and it is the responsibility of the SENCO to jointly plan this with their link Autism/CCN teacher.

All packages will run from 1st April 2025 – 31st March 2026.

No sessions or hours can be carried over and schools are encouraged to plan their work effectively with their link teacher so that it is spread across the year. This also means that packages are not designed to be delivered within a single term, but throughout the whole year.

Academies will be charged in September for this, even though work will begin in April.

Capacity limits the number of packages that can be bought by settings and therefore they are offered on a first come, first served basis.

Where service delivery involves a child assessment and the school/setting is aware of the child's absence on the appointment date, it is the setting's responsibility to contact the named professional as soon as possible to inform them and arrange alternative dates. Repeated short notice cancellations (under 24 hours) will result in hours being deducted from the package delivery.

Education Psychology

Please note, the Education Psychology Team will remain closed on the eStore for purchases, only those schools currently being supported and on the waiting, list will be contacted. However, schools will be notified if the Team have further availability in 2025/2026.

The Educational Psychology Service (EPS) is a multi-faceted and exciting team of Educational Psychologists who provide professional psychological services for children, young people and families in a wide range of educational and community settings. As a professional service, we use our expertise to apply psychology and evidence-based practice to optimise the progress, learning, development and well-being of all service users. The team aim to be responsive to the varied communities of Worcestershire in order to respond to the diverse local contexts of our schools.

The service has strong links with other services within WCF including Virtual School, Complex Communication Needs Team, Learning Needs Team, Sensory Support Teams, Social Care Teams and SEND Team to ensure there is a comprehensive team supporting our children, families and settings.

The EP service ethos aligns with WCC's values and aims, thus there is a strong focus on empowering Children, Young People and Families as well as crucially aiming to empower and build the capacity of schools to make the most of their resources.

Why choose the Educational Psychology Service?

- you will be allocated a dedicated link EP who will work with your setting, children, families and community.
- we are able to provide continuation of consultation and support across non-statutory and statutory (EHC) work.
- through your link EP you will have access to a team of Educational Psychologists who have expertise and knowledge of best evidence and practice across a wide range of specialisms in the field of educational and community psychology.
- our service uses a Consultation Model of service delivery (for further information please see our website). You will always receive a summary of the EP involvement in casework and the EP summary of the collaborative work carried out can be used to support evidence of a graduated approach and be shared with SEND / LA agencies.
- consultation Packages will be informed by an initial planning meeting facilitated by the EP. This could include assessment, intervention, consultation, training, research and bespoke systems-level and curricular projects that support the school SEF (see below and on our website for more information).
- The EPS follows British Psychological Society guidance on ethical trading and our service is not for profit and is founded on the principles of social justice. Consultation packages are for direct work (administration and travel does not come from this time).

- all our EPs hold enhanced DBS for working with vulnerable children and adults and are all HCPC registered. The latter meaning that they undertake regular CPD and supervision to ensure continuing professional development which enhances the outcomes for service users.
- all work completed by the EPS will follow the ethical principles of the profession as set out by the British Psychological Society Division of Educational and Child Psychology and by the Health and Care Professionals Council.

Our Traded Offer to settings could include: -

There are five core functions that underpin the work of the EPS:

Consultation

- Our service works through a consultation model of service delivery, which is a collaborative, preventative, problem solving approach. EPs use psychology to empower others to solve problems. Consultation can be used across a range of systems (individual, group, family, staff) and can also include supervision and coaching for specific staff groups e.g. DSL supervision.

Assessment

- Our EPs adopt a range of assessment styles and tools to understand the needs of the child or young person and promote their inclusion in the educational setting as part of the graduated 'assess, plan, do and review' model. Assessment may be via observation, staff/ parent consultation and at times direct assessment with a child/ young person. Assessment tools might include classroom observation, standardised assessment or dynamic assessment for example.

Intervention

- Our EPs offer a wide range of evidence-based tiered interventions (at the individual, small group, whole class, systemic for example) designed to support children and young people with complex SEND. Intervention may also include problem solving frameworks and collaborative approaches with the adults in the wider system around a child to promote effective and long-lasting change and build capacity for those we support.

Training

- Our EPs offer a range of training support for the education settings we work with. Training is offered at an individual, group and systems level linking research and psychological theory with practice. We are fully engaged with a number of authority-wide training programmes (e.g. ELSA and Emotionally Based School Non-Attendance) and we also offer a small range of centrally held training courses for educational professionals to attend across the year.

Research

- Educational psychologists are applied psychologists and as a service we have a number of EP colleagues who are involved in designing and carrying out research, exploring new ideas and promoting effective educational practice. We also have close links to EP Doctoral training courses and each year have a significant number of trainee colleagues who work alongside us who are active in their research endeavours.

- a recommendation by the school's school improvement adviser
- the governing board's own self evaluation

Whatever the rationale for the external review of governance the audit will support governing boards to develop clear strategies to improve the effectiveness of governance to meet the 3 core strategic functions and statutory responsibilities.

The external review of governance identifies the findings and key areas for development, providing recommendations and guidance on how these can be achieved. The recommendations will provide governors with strategies which will support them to create an evidence base to demonstrate governors meet Ofsted inspection criteria.

This review can be purchased by any school, at any time.

Costs:

- Package 1: 2.5 days consultancy time
£1,620.00+VAT
- Package 2: 3 days consultancy and includes a 3 hour follow up progress review of the action plan after three months.
£1,945.00+VAT

Upon enquiry an adviser will recommend the number of hours required to meet your needs. Multiple 3-hour sessions can be purchased to achieve delivery.

School Admissions Distance Measuring Service

For academy, foundation, free or voluntary-aided schools that are their own admission authorities, we offer a distance measuring service to provide accurate and consistent distance measurements of all children applying for your school. This enables your school to rank every application in line with your admission arrangements.

We calculate the distance using a computerised system based on ordnance survey coordinates. These are calculated as a straight-line measurement between the geo-code of the pupil's home address and the geo-code of the school. Distance measuring does not consider walking, cycling or driving routes.

Costs

The service is priced based on number of applicants: -
